✓ DEFINITION OF VERB (Final Simple Style)

A verb is a word that shows action, state, or being.

It tells what a person or thing does, what it is, or what it feels or experiences.

A verb is the heart of a sentence because a sentence cannot be complete without a verb.

★ TYPES OF VERBS (Definitions in Same Style)

1. Action Verb

An action verb is a verb that shows what someone does.

It can show a physical action or a mental action.

It tells that the subject is doing something.

Examples:

She runs fast.

He thinks about his work.

2. Stative Verb

A stative verb shows a state, not an action.

It tells about feelings, thoughts, possession, or condition.

It shows something that exists instead of something that is done.

Examples:

I know the answer.

She likes chocolate.

3. Transitive Verb

A transitive verb is a verb that needs an object to complete its meaning.

The action of the verb passes from the subject to the object.

Examples:

He kicked the ball.

She wrote a letter.

4. Intransitive Verb

An intransitive verb does not need an object.

The action is complete by itself.

Nothing receives the action.

Examples:

The baby cried.

They arrived early.

5. Regular Verb

A regular verb makes its past form by adding -ed or -d.

Its forms follow a fixed pattern.

Examples:

Walk → walked

Play → played

6. Irregular Verb

An irregular verb does not make its past form by adding -ed.

Its forms change in different ways.

Examples:

Go → went

Eat → ate

7. Linking Verb

A linking verb does not show action.

It connects the subject to its state, condition, or identity.

It tells what the subject is.

Examples:

She is tired.

They are happy.

8. Helping Verb (Auxiliary Verb)

A helping verb is used with a main verb to show tense, question, negative, or possibility.

It helps the main verb express its full meaning.

Examples:

She is singing.

You must study.

9. Modal Verb

A modal verb shows ability, permission, possibility, or advice.

It gives special meaning to the main verb.

Examples:

She can swim.

You must obey rules.

10. Finite Verb

A finite verb changes according to tense, number, and person.

It shows the time of the action.

Examples:

She writes.

They write.

11. Non-Finite Verb

A non-finite verb does not change with tense or person.

It keeps the same form in all sentences.

It includes infinitives, gerunds, and participles.

Examples:

To read is fun. (infinitive)

Reading is useful. (gerund)

A broken cup lay on the floor. (participle)

✓ CONJUNCTION

✓ INTERJECTION

Just say "Continue"!

Continue

Great! Let's continue with CONJUNCTIONS in the same simple, clear, and full-definition style.

★ CONJUNCTION — Full Definitions in Your Required Style

✓ DEFINITION OF CONJUNCTION (Simple + Complete)

A conjunction is a word that joins two or more words, phrases, or sentences together. It helps to connect ideas, making sentences clearer and more fluent.

Examples:

I like coffee and tea.

She wants to go, but she's busy.

★ TYPES OF CONJUNCTIONS (Definitions in Same Style)

1. Coordinating Conjunction

A coordinating conjunction joins words, phrases, or sentences that are equal in importance.

It connects ideas that are of the same type.

Common coordinating conjunctions: for, and, nor, but, or, yet, so (FANBOYS)

Examples:

I like coffee and tea.

She is tired, but she will keep working.

2. Subordinating Conjunction

A subordinating conjunction joins a dependent clause (a part of a sentence that cannot stand alone) with an independent clause (a complete sentence).

It shows a relationship between the two clauses, like cause, time, or condition.

Common subordinating conjunctions: because, if, when, although, since, unless

Examples:

I will go if you come with me.

He left because he was tired.

3. Correlative Conjunction

Correlative conjunctions are pairs of conjunctions that work together to connect equal parts of a sentence.

They show a strong relationship between two ideas.

Common correlative conjunctions: both...and, either...or, neither...nor, not only...but also

Examples:

She likes both chocolate and vanilla.

Either you help me, or I will do it alone.
