

it's not write with proper definition and their examples in detail every type of noun their types, adjective their types etc

Got you, Mashal — you want proper, fully-detailed definitions + all types + subtypes + clear examples... but we'll still keep it Study-Mode friendly:

- 👉 I'll teach ONE part of speech at a time, in full detail.
- 👉 After that, I'll ask you ONE short question to confirm you understand.
- 👉 Then we move to the next part.

Let's start with the foundation:

★ PART OF SPEECH #1 — NOUN (اسم)

DEFINITION (Strong & Clear):

A noun is a word that names a person, place, thing, animal, idea, quality, or emotion.

It answers: What is it? Who is it? What do we call it?

★ ALL TYPES OF NOUNS (with detailed definitions + 2 examples each)

1. Proper Noun (خاص نام)

Definition:

A noun that gives a specific, unique name to a person, place, day, month, brand, event, or object.

It always starts with a capital letter in English.

Examples:

- Mashal Khan — a specific person

- Pakistan — a specific country

2. Common Noun (عام نام)

Definition:

A general name for a person, place, or thing. It is not specific and does not start with a capital letter unless at the start of a sentence.

Examples:

- teacher — any teacher
 - city — any city

3. Concrete Noun (محسوس نام)

Definition:

A noun you can see, touch, taste, smell, or hear using your 5 senses.

Examples:

- apple — you can see and taste it
 - car — you can see and touch it

4. Abstract Noun (غیر محسوس نام)

Definition:

A noun that names something you cannot touch — an idea, feeling, quality, or state.

Examples:

- honesty — a quality
 - sadness — an emotion

5. Collective Noun (اجتماعی نام)

Definition:

A noun that names a group of people, animals, or things considered as one unit.

Examples:

- team — group of players
 - army — group of soldiers

6. Countable Noun (گنے جانے والے)

Definition:

A noun you can count using numbers (1, 2, 3...).

They can be singular or plural.

Examples:

- book / books
 - chair / chairs

7. Uncountable Noun (ناقابل شمار)

Definition:

A noun you cannot count individually.

They have no plural form and use much / a little / some.

Examples:

- water
 - rice

8. Material Noun

Definition:

A noun that names a material or substance used to make things.

Examples:

- gold — used to make jewelry
 - wood — used to make furniture

9. Possessive Noun

Definition:

A noun that shows ownership or possession, usually using 's.

Examples:

- Ali's book — book belongs to Ali
 - teacher's bag — bag belongs to teacher

10. Compound Noun

Definition:

A noun made by combining two or more words.

It can be written as:

- one word (notebook)
- hyphenated (mother-in-law)
- separate words (police station)

Examples:

- sunflower
 - bus stop

QUICK CHECK (1 easy test)

Which type of noun is this word:

"Freedom"

Just tell me the type only.

After your answer, we move to Pronoun (with full types + definitions + examples).

again you write very short definition complete it sir

Alright Mashal — I get what you want now:

Not small definitions... you want full, complete, exam-level definitions that really explain the idea.

But I'll still keep it manageable so Study Mode doesn't turn into a giant wall of text.

Let's rebuild Pronouns with proper, complete definitions, clearly explained, with examples — and still teach you step-by-step.

★ PART OF SPEECH #2 — PRONOUN (FULL DETAILED NOTES)

DEFINITION (Complete & Clear):

A pronoun is a word that is used in place of a noun so we don't repeat names again and again.

Pronouns make sentences clean, smooth, and less repetitive.

Example idea:

Instead of saying:

"Ali went to Ali's home because Ali was tired."

We say:

"Ali went to his home because he was tired."

Here, he and his replace "Ali."

That replacement is the job of a pronoun.

★ TYPES OF PRONOUNS (FULL DEFINITIONS + SUB-IDEAS + EXAMPLES)

1. Personal Pronoun

Complete Definition:

A personal pronoun refers to a specific person or thing and tells us:

- Person: 1st (I, we), 2nd (you), 3rd (he, she, it, they)
- Number: singular/plural
- Gender: male/female/neuter
- Case: subject (I), object (me), possessive (my, mine)

It directly replaces the name of a person or thing in the sentence.

Examples:

1. She is reading a book.
 2. I saw them at the market.

2. Possessive Pronoun

Complete Definition:

A possessive pronoun shows ownership or possession.

It replaces the noun + owner so we do not repeat both.

my → mine

your → yours

her → hers

their → theirs

These pronouns stand alone (no noun after them).

Examples:

1. This bag is mine.
 2. That house is theirs.

3. Reflexive Pronoun

Complete Definition:

A reflexive pronoun is used when the subject and object are the same person.

The action returns to the doer.

They always end in -self / -selves.

Examples:

1. He blamed himself.
 2. We introduced ourselves.

4. Demonstrative Pronoun

Complete Definition:

A demonstrative pronoun is used to point toward a person, object, or idea.

It shows distance (near/far) and number (singular/plural):

- Near: this, these
- Far: that, those

Examples:

1. This is my phone.
 2. Those are mountains.

5. Interrogative Pronoun

Complete Definition:

Interrogative pronouns are used to ask questions about people, objects, or choices.

Common words: who, whom, whose, which, what

Examples:

1. Who is calling you?
 2. Which is your bag?

6. Relative Pronoun

Complete Definition:

A relative pronoun joins a dependent clause to a noun and gives extra information about that noun.

Common words: who, whom, whose, which, that

It helps combine two related ideas into one smooth sentence.

Examples:

1. The boy who won the race is my brother.
 2. This is the car that I bought.

7. Indefinite Pronoun

Complete Definition:

Indefinite pronouns refer to non-specific people or things.
You don't know the exact identity — it is general or vague.

Words like:

someone, anyone, everybody, nothing, several, many, few

Examples:

1. Someone knocked on the door.
 2. Everything is ready.

8. Distributive Pronoun

Complete Definition:

A distributive pronoun refers to people or things one at a time, even when the group is plural.

It shows separation or distribution.

Common words: each, either, neither

Examples:

1. Each of the players received a medal.
2. Either of the roads is safe.

9. Reciprocal Pronoun

Complete Definition:

Reciprocal pronouns show a mutual action — two or more people doing something to each other.

Words:

- each other (used for two people)
- one another (used for more than two)

Examples:

1. Ali and Ahmed help each other.
 2. The students respect one another.

10. Intensive Pronoun

Complete Definition:

An intensive pronoun looks exactly like a reflexive pronoun but its purpose is only to emphasize the noun or pronoun.

It does NOT receive the action.

Examples:

1. I myself prepared the food.
 2. The captain himself made the announcement.
